

Global Health Cluster Interactive Online Session with support from Ready Initiative

COVID-19 Response in Humanitarian Settings; When There Are no Right Answers

Online Session

Wednesday, 13 April 2022
15:00 - 16:00 (Geneva, GMT +1).

Using the tool developed by the Global Health Cluster with key partners: Global Protection Cluster, Sphere, Ready Initiative, Humanitarian Health Ethics, WHO Mental Health and Substance Abuse Department

Health Cluster partners have had to deal with making difficult ethical decisions during COVID-19 response

Learn how to tackle difficult situations where all possible response options are unfair.

No frontline worker should be left alone to make difficult decisions.

Each organization, health cluster and the humanitarian community as a whole has a role to play

Be ready to interact with experts and learn how to do better for the "next" time

Panelists include Dr Lisa Schwart from Humanitarian Health Ethics, Aiysha Malik from WHO mental health at work place, Dr Eba Pasha from the Global Health Cluster, Dr Mukesh Prajapati Health Cluster Coordinator South Sudan

Moderated by Donatella Massai Global Health Cluster

REGISTER TO THE WEBINAR HERE

Live interpretation for this event will be provided in French, Spanish, and Arabic - Traduction en direct sera fournie en français - la traducción en العربية سيتم توفير الترجمة الفورية لهذا الحدث باللغة العربية - español estará disponible

Guidance developed by